DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-52 are pending.

Election/Restriction

Upon reconsidering the claimed inventions, restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-10, 16-18 and 21-23, drawn to a nucleic acid encoding an amino acid sequence comprising a variable region of monoclonal antibody and a method or using the same, classified in class 424, subclass 23.1.

Upon elect group I, applicants are required to further elect one of nucleic acid encoding one amino acid sequence of one monoclonal antibody variable region elected from group consisting of ATCC Accession No. 11534, 12152 and 12153 to be examined on the merits. This is not a species election because each monoclonal antibody has different variable region with different structure and has different patentable weights.

- II. Claims 12-13, 19-20, 31, 35, 37-44, drawn to chimeric monoclonal antibody and a method of making and method of using the chimeric antibody, classified in class 435, subclass 2.
- III. Claims 14-15, 32, 36, 45-52, drawn to a humanized antibody and a method of making and method of using a humanized antibody, classified in class 435, subclass 343.
- IV. Claims 24-28, drawn to a single chain antibody and a method for reducing tumor growth by using a single chain antibody, classified in class 424, subclass 134.1.
- V. Claim 29, 33, drawn to a process for preparing a polypeptide that consists of the variable region of a monoclonal antibody that specifically neutralizes activation of a receptor flt-1, classified in class 435, subclass 69.1.
- VI. Claim 30, 34, drawn to a process for preparing a polypeptide comprising an amino acid sequence consisting of the hypervariable region of a monoclonal antibody that specifically neutralizes activation of a receptor flt-1, classified in class 435, subclass 91.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I-IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are directed to structurally different agents used for different purpose and produce different biological effects, e.g. the product of Group I is nucleic acid, whereas the product of the group IV is an antibody.

Inventions V and VI are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are directed to methods that use different procedures and produce different biological results, e.g. the method of Group V is for preparing a polypeptide comprising a variable region sequence of a monoclonal antibody, whereas the product of the group VI is for producing a polypeptide with hypervariable region.

Inventions I and V are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the product of group I can be made with cell-to-cell fusion rather than using a polypeptide.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, and the literature and sequence searches required for one of the Groups are not required for another one of the Groups, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

1. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

2. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).
